Empower all to achieve excellence!

This purpose statement speaks to how we engage our team to deliver the highest standards of services and programs. It has again been a busy and successful year for our employees, users, partners and volunteers. In maintaining focus on our mission and our vision, we continued our endless pursuit towards improvement of our sport business in all areas.

Cultural transformation

Our cultural transformation project, initiated two years ago, has kept its forward momentum engaging Olympic Oval staff members in various activities with the aim of full integration of the Olympic Oval values and purpose. We utilized our 2018 staff retreat to launch the 2018-19 plan, demonstrating our investment in our desired culture and behaviors towards internal and external stakeholders.

Canada Games partnership

From a partnership standpoint, our support for the 2019 Canada Winter Games in Red Deer concluded with the successful hosting of the largest multisport event in Canada. The Olympic Oval was involved in many aspects of this great event; from ice making advice to short and long track technical support for both test events and at games themselves, to long track volunteer coordination and implementation of our timing systems and crash pads. All are examples of how the Oval team engaged themselves in support of the CWG organizing committee. We would like to congratulate all of the Red Deer event organizers on a successful games and for their dedication to make this event such a great success in Alberta.
International events hosting
The Olympic Oval was proud to support two successful ISU events this season. First, in November our staff and volunteers helped bring ISU World Cup Short Track Speed Skating back to the Oval ice for the first time since 2016. Under Oval Associate Director Marketing, Sponsorship and Events, Jamie Seguin’s leadership, as the chair of the organizing committee, we were able to provide the speed skating community and Calgary sports fans with an amazing experience. A few months later the Organizing Committee Calgary (OCC) successfully hosted the 2019 ISU World All Round Speed Skating Championships. The Olympic Oval had another opportunity to supply a world-class racing facility in support of Alice Humeny, chair of OCC, and her team. Three World Records were broken at this event preserving our reputation as the “Fastest Ice in the World.” Congratulations to both of the organizing committees for their dedication and hard work in supporting the ISU and Speed Skating Canada.

Business development, innovation and technology: A new opportunity!
In 2018, the Olympic Oval made moves to create and develop a new portfolio to enhance the competitive advantage of Canadian high performance speed skating, along with adding new opportunities to explore innovation and technology. The first year of this implementation gave us the chance to explore new partnerships, develop ideas and implement tangible new initiatives.

It is only through the support of our dean, Dr. Penny Werthner and the Faculty of Kinesiology that we are able to pursue, support and grow such partnerships in the future. We also initiated positive collaborations with external stakeholders such as Brock University, the Innovation Lab in the Netherlands as well as Own The Podium (OTP).

One of our key projects in year one was the implementation of our two new giant screens that have led to new opportunities for technology integration as well as business and marketing. It represents an investment of 1.4 million dollars, and is an exciting new multi-purpose asset for our facility.

A new look; a new brand!
Since 2017, our users have seen the new look at the Oval continue to progress as a result of a collaboration with the University of Calgary. Our Marketing, Events, Competition, Communication and Sponsorship team worked diligently at redefining and shaping the concept to ensure full and practical integration of the new branding. We took advantage of this opportunity to integrate our vision, mission, values and purpose in strategic places within the facility to speak to our community about who we are and our commitments.

Financial assets
Thanks to the efforts of our team we were able to optimize financial assets to enhance our capacity to deliver a high quality daily training environment. We have seen a 14% increase in revenue compared to 2017-18 - cumulating in a 36% revenue increase through four years of a five-year plan. Sustainability has become a tangible outcome for us as a facility and this is an amazing achievement.

Calgary 2026 Bid
Our team was actively involved in the 2026 Olympic Bid process as one of the key venues for the largest multisport winter event in the world. Despite the majority of Calgarians voting no to support a bid to host the 2026 Olympics, it was a very positive experience for our team and our sport community. The vote forced us to take stock and evaluate the state of many of our legacy and sport facilities with regards to major issues such as feasibility, utility and accessibility. Important steps to take as a city, regardless of the voting outcome.

Thank you!
As the Director of the Calgary Olympic Oval and on behalf of the Faculty of Kinesiology leadership group, I would like to acknowledge the great accomplishments our Oval Family achieved this year. Oval staff, our University, sport partners, volunteers, sponsors, athletes, and all patrons, played an important role in reaching these successes. Congratulations to each and every one of you for your dedication.

Yves Hamelin
Director, Olympic Oval
The Olympic Oval continues to be Canada’s premier venue for ISU competitions at the highest levels of the sport. Two of the major highlights from this season included Calgary being the first stop in the 2018/19 ISU World Cup Short Track Speed Skating circuit and the host city for the 2019 ISU World AllRound Speed Skating Championships.

2018 ISU World Cup Short Track Speed Skating

This event was a coming out party for much of the young, up and coming Canadian women’s short track team led by Courtney Sarault (Silver – 1500m, Bronze – 3000m relay), Alyson Charles (Bronze – 500m, 500m (2), 3000m relay) and the Oval Program’s own Alison Desmarais. Desmarais came off the momentum of an impressive Canadian Trials to skate her first World Cup races in front of friends and family on her “home ice” here in Calgary. She would even go on to capture her first World Cup medal as part of the Canadian Women’s relay team who captured bronze in the 3000m. Olympic champion Suzanne Schulting (NED) spearheaded a dominant performance by the Dutch women’s team, which collected two golds and a silver on the final day of the competition.

On the men’s side, Wu Dajing of China flirted with his own World Record from the 2018 Olympics all weekend as he dominated the 500m races with a pair of gold medal performances. Hungary provided the big finish to the competition as the reigning Olympic Champions, led by the Liu brothers (Shaolang and Shaolin Sandor), posted a new world record of 6:28.625 in the final of the men’s 5000m relay.

2019 ISU World AllRound Speed Skating Championships

A long time member of our extended #OvalFamily Martina Sáblíková of the Czech Republic put on a show with a pair of long distance World Records en route to her fifth World AllRound title and second on the “Fastest Ice in the World.” Sáblíková skated to a 3:53.31 in the 3000m - 0.03 seconds faster than previous record-holder Cindy Klassen who set the record 13 years earlier here at the Oval. She then followed it up with a time of 6:42.01 in the 5000m, trimming her own previous World Record of 6:42.66. Reigning champion Miho Takagi of Japan finished second while Antoinette de Jong took home the bronze medal for the Netherlands.

In the men’s competition, Patrick Roest of the Netherlands successfully defended his World Allround title, setting a points World Record with 145.561 - breaking the 2006 mark of 145.742 set by American Shani Davis. Norway’s Sverre Lunde Pedersen placed second, while nine-time champion Sven Kramer (NED) finished third. Hometown favorite and Olympic Champion Ted-Jan Bloemen (12:53.15) came second in the final distance (10000m) and fifth in the overall rankings.

Canada Winter Games Record - Paul Coderre (Team Pursuit)

Speed Skating Canada National Team athletes that trained at the Olympic Oval
From World Records to the Canada Winter Games and Qualifiers to International Athletes.
The Canada Winter Games occur only every four years and are a true celebration of youth in Canadian sport. The 2019 edition was hosted in Red Deer, Alberta (February 15 until March 3) and featured 19 sports, over 150 events and a major cultural festival. There were an estimated 3,600 athletes, managers and coaches participating and among them 27 athletes from the Olympic Oval program with 14 long track and 13 short track skaters participating for their respective provinces. Some of the participants of the past include the likes of speed skating legends Cindy Klassen, Catriona Le May Doan, Charles Hamelin and Marc Gagnon.

Long Track

On the long track, Oval skaters braved the frigid temperatures at the long track venue at Great Chief Park (-20 to -25 Celsius) to proudly represent their provincial teams. Paul Coderre became the first Oval Program skater to strike gold as he joined Alberta’s Team Pursuit squad in a Canada Winter Games Record setting performance of 4:05.41. Coderre also had two top 5 finishes in the 1000m & 1500m. Matthew Laxton of Team Ontario was the first Oval Program skater to collect some hardware at the 2019 Games as he skated to a bronze medal finish in the men’s 1500m. Laxton’s second medal of the weekend came in the Team Pursuit as he and three other Oval program skaters; Noah Bouma, Gibson Himbault and Max Brant brought home a bronze for Team Ontario. He would go on to take a silver in the Mass Start to round out his 2019 Games with three medals.

On the women’s side of the table Team Alberta and Oval Program athlete Cassidy Peterson captured silver in the Women’s Team Pursuit and finished her week with top 5 finishes in the 1500m & 3000m distances. Peterson was joined in her Team Pursuit Silver by Anna Bourgeois, Kayla McNeely and 20 year old Brooklyn McDougall who was the story of the 2019 Games.
for Alberta Speed Skating. The Calgary native, Olympic Oval Program alumna and Team Canada Development team skater racked up a pair of gold medals (500m & 1500m), two silver (Team Pursuit & 1000m) and a bronze in the 3000m to earn the moniker of “Miss CWG” amongst the media in Red Deer.

Short Track

One group who did not have to deal with the cold was the short track athletes whose event took place indoors at the newly constructed Gary W. Harris Canada Games Centre. Oval Program athlete Matej Pederson fed off the energy of the Alberta home crowd to skate to a bronze medal in his first Canada Winter Games 1500m distance on the first weekend of the competition.

Alberta teammates Hee Won Son and Brendan Yamada also took advantage of “home ice” claiming gold and bronze medals respectively in the 500m finals. The Alberta Short Track team, made up primarily of Oval Program skaters and coached by Oval Program coaches Cristina Lazarescu and Dustin Miller then finished the competition on a high note as both the Women’s and Men’s Relay teams scored silver medal finishes. Team Alberta’s Women’s team included Oval skaters Son, Caitlyn Pelkey, Molly Young and Cezara Bere while the Men’s team included Oval skaters Pederson, Yamada and Mathias Bathe.

World Junior Speed Skating Championships

Every great dream begins with a dreamer.

The Oval Program was well represented at both the 2019 ISU World Junior Short Track Championships held in Montreal and the 2019 ISU World Junior Speed Skating Championships in Italy.

On the short track, Alberta’s Hee Won Son and Matej Pederson represented Canada joining 172 of the World’s top junior skaters, from 36 countries at Maurice Richard Arena in Montreal, QC. Both skaters clinched spots on the Canadian team thanks to their respective performances at the Canadian Championships. Son, who has earned the title of top junior skater in Alberta each of the past three seasons, finished second in the 500m, third in the 1000m, and fourth in the 1500m. Pederson finished second in both the 500m and 1000m. Son and Pederson were coached at the World Juniors by Oval coach Alan McIlveen, coaching at his third straight World Junior Championships. On the long track, Gabrielle Sanson made her second trip to World Juniors competing in the 2019 World Junior Championships in Baselga di Piné, Italy. The 18 year-old native of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan made her World Junior debut as a 16 year old in Changchun, China. Sanson battled back from an injury last season to earn her second trip to World Juniors based on her results from the 2019 Canadian Junior Long Track Championships that took place in Calgary at the beginning of January. Sanson didn’t have to go it alone, as she was coached in Italy by Oval Program coach and Speed Skating Canada coach Todd McClements.
Alumni Highlights

Oval Family
Dubbed “Canada’s Medal Factory” the Olympic Oval remains a Canadian National Training Centre and for the last 30 years has been home to many of Canada’s elite skating athletes, all of whom we are proud to call a part of our Oval Family!

Hall of Champions
The Oval’s Hall of Champions is a celebration of Canadian speed skating athletes who have trained at the Olympic Oval. The honour is bestowed on those who are Olympic medalists and are now retired from the sport. Inductees have their images raised to the Hall of Champions rafters in the Olympic Oval. This season three members of our Oval Family were inducted to the Hall of Champions; Long track Olympic medalist Christine Nesbitt and Short Track Olympic medalists Jessica Gregg and Tania Vicent.

The Olympic Oval began Phase 1 of its rebranding in the summer of 2017. After a new logo was introduced, the marketing and communications teams started work on a number of capital branding projects. In 2018, the former ad boards for the 1988 Olympics were transformed with a new brand identity. Three Zambonis were also treated with the same design. The team worked closely with the design team at University Relations and came up with a fresh look and feel that embraces the university brand and the overall mission and vision of the Oval. Phase 3 of the project started in late January and installation finished at the end of April.

As a result, the Oval Lounge and Boardroom were treated with a distinct look and feel that echoes the ad boards and new brand identity treatments. The second component was a complete overhaul of the long track bumpers which will be dressed with vinyl banners covering 50% of the new bumpers. A secondary necessity for this space was to upgrade the look and feel to attract prospective clients for the 2019-2020 season (Christmas parties, Faculty events, non-university clients etc.).

Phase 4 of the Oval’s brand identity overhaul will include further pillar treatments, signage, wayfinding, digital treatments and animation for the Oval’s new Daktronics screens.
International Athletes

Visit: oval.ucalgary.ca/international-athletes

Each year the Oval welcomes international teams to our facility for year round training. Over 1,000 athletes from 22 countries trained at the Olympic Oval in the 2018-19 season.

Long track & short track athletes can train on “The Fastest Ice in the World” from June until March and take part in our many ISU sanctioned competitions.

Even better, the facility is a one stop shop for high performance training with all the amenities of Calgary, the host of the 1988 Olympic Winter Games. A full service high performance skate shop, restaurants, hotels, the UCalgary campus and the added appeal of living at the foot of the Canadian Rockies are just some of the many benefits of training in this Olympic city.

The Olympic Oval purpose statement is to “empower all to achieve excellence.” This includes all of the international teams we see on a daily basis, preparing and working towards their personal bests.

The Olympic Oval continues to remain dedicated to being a landmark in the university and Calgary community. Each year the Oval welcomes over 20,000 patrons for public skating and this season over 5,000 fans visited the Oval to see the very best in the world compete in the two major ISU events held at the Oval.

Oval program skaters are a part of the fabric of the Calgary community. This city was built on the Olympic spirit and continues to be the home for the many National Sport organizations, alumni, staff, venues and athletes.

Oval Program skaters are each encouraged to take on a role in the community and dedicate time from their busy schedules to volunteer and give back to the communities in which they live.

Two examples of this are the Servus Credit Union Free Family Day Skate in which they interacted with the over 2000 in attendance. Oval athletes were on hand to offer some skating tips and to collect supplies for Olympic Oval care packages which they then packed and distributed to the less fortunate.

It’s only through the donations from the public at the Servus Family Day Skate, a very “kind” donation from KIND bars plus a little extra effort from the Oval staff & athletes that we were able to hand deliver these packages to those in need in our community. Each package contained various items such as wool socks or toques, Powerade, toothbrushes & toothpaste, snacks and Kind bars. Big thanks to everyone who lent a hand or who donated and especially to Servus Credit Union & KIND bars for making this possible.
Calgary Regional Speed Skating Development

The Olympic Oval continues to be a major supporter for the grassroots development of speed skating across the country and locally. Our team continues to work with Speed Skating Canada and the various provincial organizations and clubs to guide athletes into the elite pathway. Locally, this past season, the Oval worked in collaboration with several sport community leaders to form a working group. Committee Members included representatives from the Olympic Oval, Alberta Amateur Speed Skating Association, Calgary Speed Skating Association, Calgary Grizzlies, Sport Calgary, Alien Inline, Special Olympics and a sport development representative.

A partnership with two YMCAs was also formed with a very successful speed skating debut at Rocky Ridge this year and high expectations for the future at Seton next season.
The Calgary Olympic Oval was very proud to award 13 athletes Olympic Oval Bursaries for the 2018-19 season. Congratulations go out to long track skaters; Max Brant (Niagra on the Lake, ON), Paul Coderre (Calgary, AB), Graeme Fish (Moose Jaw, SK), Sierra Johnson (Oakville, ON), Matt Laxton (Hespeler, ON), Abigail McCluskey (Penticton, BC), Jake Weidemann (Ottawa, ON) and Taylor White (Cambridge, ON). On the short track, congratulations to: Roger Fulton (Fredericton, NB), Caitlin Pelkey (Calgary, AB), Matej Pederson (Calgary, AB), Hee Won Son (Calgary, AB) and Brendan Yamada (Calgary, AB).

Since its inception in 2005, the Oval Bursary Fund has supported 100 athletes with over $160,000 in support of their quest for excellence in the sports of speed skating, cycling and female hockey.
Other notable past recipients of Oval bursaries include current and former Canadian National team long and short track athletes, such as short track National team skater Alison Desmarais, 2018 Olympians Ben Donnelly, Heather McLean, Josie Morrison, Keri Morrison and Isabelle Weidemann, Olympic medalist Marie Eve Drolet and 3-time Olympian Brittany Schussler.

Thank You to our Partners and Sponsors!
Thank you for your business.

The 2018-2019 season was an incredible success. We couldn’t have done it without all the support from our staff, athletes, sponsors, partners, volunteers, the University of Calgary and Calgarians. We look forward to seeing you all next season for another incredible year!
